The visit went better today. However, even with two of us it is impossible to hear everything they say to Jackson and Remington. Tonight Remington told that her Daddy tells her "not to tell" at the visits. I asked her "not to tell what?" and she said "everything" and "don't tell about Mommy and Taylor". I asked her if he said something would happen if she told and she said "Yes. The bad man will shoot you and me if I talk about it. If he can find us." I asked where daddy talks about this and she said "down by the creek" (Quitman or the park? She did not say which.), "in the tunnel" (there are 2 concrete tunnels at Pecan Park and Jason and Faye sit in these to talk to the kids), and some "green thing that spins around" at "Macaroni Park" today. She said that she did not tell her Daddy that she talked about it and I bragged on her for not telling him. I told her that I know it is hard to try to do what all of the grown ups tell her to do but it is very important that she not tell her Daddy that she disobeyed him.
